NEWPORT WOMEN TO BE WAR NURSES

They Will Receive Elementary Instruction in Nursing,
Besides Making Surgical Dressings--Members of Summer Colony in Their Villas

NEWPORT, R. I., July 8.
THE women of the summer colony have always been ready to assist in any charity or in any way that their assistance is needed. Last winter the wives and daughters of some of the prominent army and navy officers here organized the American Army and Navy Surgical Aid, and they have been busy with it ever since, giving lectures on first aid and the like, while they have also been making large quantities of surgical dressings as a reserve in time of need.

Since the opening of the season the summer colonists have become interested in the work of this society and also in the work of the Red Cross, one of the latest moves in regard to the latter work is the formation of a class by Miss Helen Weaver to take

Robert K. Cassatt, Mrs. H. Winthrop Gray, James J. Van Allen, Mr. and Mrs. William Everard Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sampson Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. August Belmont and Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer.

RECORD CROWD AT NARRAGANSETT PIER

Resort Greatly Improved and Besides Old Colonists Has Many New Ones.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 8.—One of the fairest and most fascinating regions in all New England to-day is unquestionably Narragansett Pier. This opinion has been very generally expressed by the hundreds of sojourners who arrived here during the past week, many for the first time in their lives.

Not since the days of the famous old Sherry Casino, more than a dozen years ago, has the Pier presented so prosperous and so attractive an appearance. The public square and the handsome new Federal Building and Post Office, adjoining the Casino grounds, would do honor to any resort in this country or abroad, while the red tiled sidewalks for the full eastern length of Ocean road and the white cement sidewalks along the western end, lighted each evening with large electric lights, are full of charm for those who revel in long walks along the ocean side at night.

The restored and remodelled old stone arch of the historic old Casino will hereafter be known as the Towers.

One of the rooms in Mr. Hanan's shop is an Egyptian interior with rich Egyptian hangings and bric a brac. Here Mr. Hanan will serve Egyptian coffee to his friends.

The western end of the Towers will be finished by the end of another week and will be just the place for cozy little tea parties, luncheons and small dances. On the first floor a small picture gallery has been fitted up for a studio, to be occupied by Mrs. E. Freeman of New York.

At the Point Judith Country Club tennis is the vogue, the academy, since the eleventh annual open lawn tennis tournament opens July 17.

The Mathewson Hotel has opened a new auto grill, where it is proposed to serve on Friday of each week an old fashioned Rhode Island clam bake. Another acquisition to the hotel much appreciated by the guests is the presence of two professional dancers, Donald Sawyer and Miss Lynne.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. De Witt of New York, who have spent many seasons at the Mathewson, arrived for an extended stay during the week. Mr. E. C. De Witt and Miss Molly Sugden of New York arrived during the week for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Miles White, Jr., Miss Ruth E. White, Mrs. John H. Stewart and Miss Virginia Stewart of Baltimore are late arrivals at the Imperial. Mr. and Mrs. E. Whitney, of Hartford, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Brown of Lock Haven, Pa., are at the Gladstone. Miss Mary Van Buren Vanderpool of New York, Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Chandler of Philadelphia are at the Massanutts.
